

Chief Executive Officer

Australian Government
Infrastructure Australia

- Deliver critical advice on key infrastructure reform
- Inform investment decisions at a State and Federal level
- Drive outcomes across a high performing team

Infrastructure Australia is the leading independent infrastructure advisory body and plays a key role in advocating for reform on how to better plan, deliver and utilise Australia's infrastructure. The organisation provides independent research and advice to all levels of government, as well as investors, industry and the community.

Working closely with the Board, you will have in-depth involvement in shaping organisational strategy and direction. Key external stakeholders will include senior government ministers and officials, CEOs of industry and the media.

Critical areas of focus for the organisation include the development and release of the upcoming Australian Infrastructure Audit, continuing work on the organisation's Cities policy as part of a broader urban reform agenda, and leading the development of the next Australian Infrastructure Plan. The Infrastructure Priority List is also a key focus, ensuring there is a continued flow of potential investments in nationally significant infrastructure that will boost national productivity and growth.

Your background should include leadership roles in infrastructure, with exposure to or experience in government decision making at federal and state levels. You will have a keen understanding of infrastructure policy issues facing Australia, a strong capacity to influence policy, and the ability to prosecute a reform agenda publicly. Experience driving collaboration and leading a diverse range of high-performing teams is critical. You will understand the integrity and governance standards that this role requires.

The CEO for Infrastructure Australia is a high profile role and influences the agenda for infrastructure policy in Australia. This role represents an opportunity to have a lasting impact on infrastructure development in this country.
